ABOUT

DEPARTMENT OF BOTANY & INDUSTRIAL MICROBIOLOGY

Botany is a branch of science dealing with the study of plants. It is a vast subject as there are 3,00,000 species of green plants, which are currently recognized, and there are more than 1,00,000 fungi, 5,000 bacteria and other microbes. Plants are the only living organisms that are capable of converting the energy of solar radiations into chemical energy. The whole universe is produced food of plants.

The application of botanical knowledge is for the well being of mankind. The primary necessities of man are three fold food, clothing and shelter. All these necessities are fulfilled by the plants from very ancient times.
